UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH
SEWANEE, TENNESSEE

1966

If you would know a mother, look to her children, and if you would know Sewanee, look to her sons. Young and old, you will find in them a reflection of her: the indelible mark of a deep and meaningful experience.

To graduate from Sewanee is to view her with respect and affection; for she is a demanding matriarch, setting hurdles which neither indifference nor dislike can leap. It is not for wisdom alone that men endure her hellish winter temperaments and brook her intolerance of soft-spoken competition, nor is wisdom all they learn.

Sewanee's smallness has no room for superficial refuges, and her communal living generates an intimacy sharp enough to pierce the hardest shell of "coolness". Try as he will, the Arcadian sooner or later must recognize and accept himself as he really is. Such acceptance usually comes slowly and painfully, aggregated by an "I and me and what can we do now?" situation repeated many times.

The Sewanee professor knows his students well and is quite fluent in their individual capabilities.

THIS IS

Most professors couple this knowledge with a demand for the best, thus producing a situation in which the student finds it difficult to be an "academic slow boat to China", unless inherently so equipped.

Yet if Sewanee demands and tests, so does she give. There is no greater beauty than spring on the mountain, nor one more appreciated than by those who have lived through the icy winter. If the process of self-acceptance is painful and disillusioning, so is it also a beginning.

The Sewanee Man

"Strive mightily, but eat and drink as friends."

Prometheus Reliberated.

A close and often familiar relationship with those who teach us: Four copies of How to Win at Soccer.

After being pushed to top speed, many students learn the satisfaction that comes from all-out effort and continue to do their best, not only in academics, but in other fields as well.

Thus does Sewanee mark the men who come within her embrace: a mark engendered of wise leaders, great silences, and living truths.

Sewanee is different in many ways, perhaps best so in her manner of teaching. For the Sewanee Man academic endeavour is a humanized undertaking, centering upon the relationships between student and teacher. The professor is not a distant oracle behind a rostrum, but a man who "lives and breathes": someone to share a beer with or to visit in his home. Often he is a close friend and an invaluable consultant in personal as well as academic problems.

Despite a precipitate expansion, small classes still are the rule.

The handwriting on the wall.

"He prayeth best, who loveth best All Things, both great and small."

Devotion to Life

The freshman plus three

"To him who in the love of Nature. . ."

Of human bondage. . .

It is through such friendships that education on the Mountain transcends stated facts and printed theories: stimulating a regard for learning as a moving, viable force. The student learns in perspective, as he usually knows not only what the professor says, but why he says it and in what context.

Sewanee is one of the few institutions where the exigencies of mass teaching haven't stripped the student of his right to ask questions and voice disagreements in class; lectures on the Mountain are punctuated with frequent discussions and interjections of opinion. By the senior year, most students are either possessed of fair oratorical skill or silent, having learned to avoid the quick laughter which rewards ill-founded conclusions and long-winded arguments.

Thus does the Sewanee man learn, not by the mechanical process of take in and spew back, but by total involvement in a personal and vital endeavour.

The Word

"For all life's days prepare. . . ."

The grin of ignorance

"The schoolboy . . . with shining morning face. . . ."

Sports on the Mountain seem almost unique, so far removed are they from the norms of either Big or Little Ten. Goal posts remain standing, win or lose, subject only to the attack of monkey-agile kids seeking streamers. Baskets are never hacked from their rims. There are no riots, no fights, and no hours lost in finding a parking place. You and the guy sitting next to you in the stands are probably on a first name basis. The cheerleaders are male, and little girls are welcome additions to the cheering section.

The men in Purple aren't playing because they're being paid, or because they can major in P.E. with the assurance of a degree. No, they're out there sweating, six and sometimes seven days a week, because they love the game.

And, occasionally. . . .

"Alike to those who for today prepare . . ."

Sewanee still takes pride in the intimacy of its classes.

"And those who after some tomorrow stare..."

Before an obligation. . . .

And from the sign is gone Miss Clara's name.

If a player is injured or taped, you and the rest of the student body are aware of the fact and yell a little louder because he has what it takes to keep going. The Sewanee athlete isn't a distant man of steel, whom you never meet, but the fellow that sits next to you in English and worries about the coming game. Having a letter wearer say hello doesn't provide the pink cloud for the week.

Sewanee sports: Le Grand Bourdon or an impromptu carillon concert hailing victory, a shared sorrow in defeat, a David and Goliath story come true as Sewanee beats the big ones.

Sports on the Mountain are different, and that difference commands a tribute and respect; not the respect of the crowd for the well-paid machine, but the respect of man for man.

"The village street its haunted mansion lack."

As Sewanee is not coed, she is, from the viewpoint of the young, Christian, male, somewhat lacking socially. However, party weekend graces the mountain three times a year and at such times all deficiencies are obliterated beneath a cover of girls, Kool-aid and song.

The atmosphere remains one of unity on these weekends, for all of the fraternity parties are open. Faculty members and their wives mingle with the students.

From morning glasses of tomato juice to 3 a.m. partings, every moment of the weekend is utilized to best advantage; goaded by the joy of the moment and the knowledge that deprivation returns with Monday.

In the absence of party weekends, the Sewanee man contents himself with the many teas and dinners which occur during the year. Entering students quickly learn the names of the ladies who preside over the silver service. Also acquired is the ability to balance a cup and saucer on one knee; leaving both hands free to pillage passing trays of hors d'oeuvres.

On Sunday nights the Sewanee man may follow the tradition of calling upon professors in their homes. These visits enable the student to keep in touch with home life, while becoming better acquainted with his teachers. Frequently such calls reap tangible benefits, ranging from homemade cookies to a glass of beer, or two.

Tradition is a renewable commodity

Football is a spectator sport

And occasionally, briefly, timidly, the modern age tries to get a foothold here.

Over two hundred years of good living.

Stately Wayne Manor.

Now, dammit, where is Bayly?

To the administration, foolishness; to SMA, anathema; to the Sewanee man, an obligation.

"... where social ease is bred through contact with gentle people ..."

And some people study, even on Party Week-end.

And some people don't.

Matrons represent civilization within the dormitories. That they, alone and unarmed, can defeat the forces of male barbarism is indeed eloquent testimony to their abilities. The matron's living room offers a quiet refuge from dorm life, and usually something to eat. She is someone who will listen to your gripes and problems, someone you can tell about your girl without having to listen to a romantic ode in return.

Life at Sewanee centers upon the chapel, beneath whose vaulted arches a swallow sometimes wanders without sensing that he's confined. The great hall gives voice through three organs and is lined on either side with flags: one of which is stained and tattered and undeniably some benches above the others.

Today we settle Hoti's business.

And education at Sewanee is a humanized endeavor.

Sewanee men of all times.

"... and frosted window panes and sunlight on ice-coated trees and wind and rain and snow and sleet and ice. . . ."

You may look at the plaques upon the walls and know that there were great men, men who were once here, as you are now. They have passed, yet still remain; for all times are gathered within the church; the church where you came as a freshman, the church where you were gowned, the church you will leave as a senior.

You will pass over the great seal for the last time, yet remain within the oaken doors. Always the great hall will stand in the memory, and you will know and feel fellowship with those who were before you, with those who left with you, and with those who will follow. This is the bond of communion between Sewanee Men of all times; a bond born within the Church, nourished by the Church, symbolized in the Church: a Christian Fellowship.

Of crowns and clowns, of beers and cheers, and deans and queens.

Abbo

And running through it all, the shining example of good Christian men.

Poncho

DEDICATION:

Finally, however, we do not define our term, Sewanee Man. To do so would be to try and set a boundary around a quantity that is infinite. We do not, therefore, attempt definition. Our task has been one of enumeration, and it will culminate, not in a paraphrase, but in an example:

He is a Southerner—from a part of the South which, understanding the true function of aristocracy, furnished its country with men like Washington and Lee: the Eastern Shore of Virginia. He is a Churchman—from a particular branch of our Church whose priests have been leaders in faith and whose laymen leaders in fact. He is an alumnus—a graduate in the days of Dr. Guerry and Major Gass, when a small school made up by its excellence what it lacked in equipment.

To speak factually, he is a scholar—the acting secretary of Phi Beta Kappa here, chairman of his department, and a full professor. He is Marshal of the University Faculties. He is an active Kappa Sig; he is adviser to the Red Ribbon Society. One does not have to be in his classes to know him.

But most significant of all, he shows those qualities of balance and perspective, of moderation and of gentle tolerance for all points of view which are central to any conception of the Christian gentleman and which seem to be, in essence, just what Sewanee—with her liberal arts education in a specialized world—is trying to effect.

It is with great pleasure that we, the men of Sewanee, dedicate this 1966 CAP AND GOWN to a Sewanee Man, Dr. Bayly Turlington.

THE CHANCELLOR

The Chancellor of the University is Bishop Carpenter of Alabama. Born in Augusta, Georgia, in 1899, he received a B.A. degree from Princeton in 1921, a B.D. from the Virginia Theological Seminary in 1926, and has received D.D. degrees from Princeton, Virginia and Sewanee. Also, he holds an LL.D. degree from the University of Alabama.

Bishop Carpenter was rector of the Church of the Advent in Birmingham until he was elected Bishop of Alabama in 1938. He has had a long record of association with Sewanee, having been a trustee for many years prior to becoming the Chancellor in 1960.

In accordance with English tradition, the duties of the Chancellor are light. Bishop Carpenter serves as president of the Board of Trustees, ex-officio member of the Board of Regents, and confers honorary degrees at Commencement ceremonies.

THE VICE-CHANCELLOR

The Eleventh Vice-Chancellor of the University is a man of many facets. Born in Canton, Mississippi, in 1906, of a family that is closely allied with Sewanee, he earned his B.A. at the College of Charleston, his M.S. at the University of Pittsburgh, and his Ph.D. at the University of Pennsylvania. He assumed his present position in 1951 as chief administrative officer after earning international recognition as head of the Biology Division at Oak Ridge. An accomplished musician, woodcarver, architect, and scholar, Dr. McCrady is the epitome of the Sewanee gentleman.

Collins, Chaplain; Rt. Rev. E. Hamilton West; Rt. Rev. Robert R. Brown; Robert S. Lancaster, Director of Development; William A. Kirkland.

Seated: Rt. Rev. Frank A. Juhan; Edward Me-
Crary, Vice-Chancellor; Rt. Rev. John M. Allin.
Not Pictured: Rt. Rev. Charles C. J. Carpenter, Chancellor; Rev. W. W. Lumpkin; Edwin I. Hatch.

BOARD OF REGENTS

The Board of Regents, which is elected by the Board of Trustees, is the executive board of the University. It is composed of three bishops, three priests, and six laymen of the Episcopal Church. The Chancellor and the Vice-Chancellor serve as ex-officio members. This board has all the powers of maintenance and government of the University except those particularly reserved by the Board of Trustees. It holds its regular meetings at Sewanee three times a year.

RETIREMENT OF MR. HODGES

John Hodges has served the Library and this University for thirty-two years. Born in Paducah, Kentucky, in 1911, he received his A.B. degree in 1931 from the University of Kentucky and his M.A. from Vanderbilt in 1932. He came to the Mountain in 1933 as assistant to Miss Louise Finley, became Associate Librarian in 1935 and Librarian in 1939. Under his careful direction, the University's book collection became a modern library, increasing from 30,000 volumes to over 100,000. The stack space tripled, and the annual expenditure on books increased from $1,000 to $18,000. The present library incorporates many of his plans, and his contribution during this transition period has been vital.

After a heart attack, in 1962 Mr. Hodges stepped down to the post of Associate Librarian and continued in that job until the Jesse Ball DuPont Library had been safely launched. He took terminal leave last September and retired as Associate Librarian.

Mr. Hodges has made himself useful in many other ways at Sewanee, especially among the students (from the SEWANEE PURPLE, March 4, 1965):

"A gentleman of the Old School (he has never been known to pass anyone, man, woman, or dog, without a courteous greeting), nothing we can say here could pay adequate tribute to Mr. Hodges and the work he has done for us all."

And it is the Sewanee Man who is the poorer that he has retired.

JOHN IREL HALL HODGES

GASTON SWINDELL BRUTON, PH.D

The Provost, the second ranking administrative officer, has played an important part in the affairs of the University since his arrival here in 1925. This year Dr. Bruton turned over his positions as head of the math department and tennis coach in order to concentrate more on the difficult task of running the expanding University's finances.

DEANS

JOHN MAURICE WEBB, PH.D

The Dean of the College is responsible for the academic rules and requirements of the College. While Dr. Lancaster was employed on the successful campaign, Dr. Webb assumed the duties of Dean of the College. Besides acting as Dean, Dr. Webb is a professor of American History, member of the local draft board, and a justice of the peace.

CHARLES O'CONNOR BAIRD, D.F.

The Dean of Men is concerned with disciplinary problems, student counseling, and room assignments. The Acting Dean of Men is Dr. Charles Baird, who is also associate professor of forestry, a member of the Publications Board, and Director of the University's Summer Session.

DEANS

JOHN BOSTICK RANSOM, III, B.A., M.A., D.S.

Mr. Ransom holds the important and demanding position of Director of Admissions. A graduate of Sewanee, he took his M.A. at Stanford University and earned a diploma in French Literature from the Sorbonne. He returned here in 1959 after serving nine years as Chief Education Advisor for the United States in Paris.

ORDER OF GOWNSMEN

The Order of Gownsmen was founded in 1873 by William Porcher DuBose, then University Chaplain. Extrinsic to its purpose was serving as a visual reminder, through its attire, of the large role that both Oxford and Cambridge played in the founding of this school. Intrinsic to it has been the maintenance of student tradition and student discipline.

The members of the Order are required to wear the academic gown to every class. Members are chosen on the basis of scholastic achievement. They are given the privilege of voluntary class attendance, and all student offices except class offices must be filled by gownsmen.

This year, the Order has attempted to re-evaluate its role in the life of the University. A need was seen to differentiate between the functions of the gownsmen and their actual power.

Seen in perspective, the OG regulates and administers, but does not govern. Its most important function is advisory, and in this its role is to act as liaison between the students and the governing bodies of the University.

HONOR COUNCIL

RUPERT WALTERS
President

Very much of what it means to be a Sewanee Man is embodied in the Honor Code of the University. This code, written by the students themselves and enforced by them, takes for granted that a man shall neither lie, cheat, nor steal. It exemplifies the character of the trust that has traditionally been placed in men at this school by their superiors.

The Honor Code is administered by an Honor Council, composed of two seniors, two juniors, one sophomore, and one freshman from the College and of one member from each class in the School of Theology. The council meets only when some violation of the Honor Code is reported to it, and if, after a full hearing, it finds the person accused guilty, it may suggest to the Dean of the College that the offender be removed from school. Final appeals rest with the Vice-Chancellor.

Because the Honor Code is taken seriously at Sewanee, examinations are not proctored, the library has open stacks, a man's word is taken, and trust, rather than suspicion, marks most relationships.

The Student Proctors are responsible for conduct in the dormitories, chapel, dining hall, and on campus in general. They are considered as student members of the Administration and are chosen from among those who are proven campus leaders and responsible persons. In addition to their obvious function as serving as sort of a liaison between the administration and the students, they have in their hands the responsibility for the maintenance of the long-standing tradition at Sewanee of student self-discipline. It is greatly to the credit both of the proctors themselves and of the student body as a whole that these duties are taken seriously on both sides: student and administration.

The proctors for the forthcoming year are chosen at the end of each spring by the incumbents from junior and senior members of the Order of Gownsmen. These choices are subject to approval by the administration, as well as the election of Head Proctor. Those chosen are then assigned a dormitory for the forthcoming year and allowed to choose an assistant proctor to help them in the administration of the dormitory to which they have been assigned.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD

The Publications Board has as its purpose the general supervision of all the student publications at the University of the South: THE CAP AND GOWN, The Sewanee Purple, and The Mountain Goat. It is a standing committee composed of six faculty members and a student representative of both the junior and senior class as voting members and the editors and business managers of the three student publications as ex officio members. The board regulates the finances of each of the three publications, acts as a prior censor to the CAP AND GOWN and as subsequent censor to the Purple and Goat when necessary, and approves nominations for the editors of the publications.

The Reverend William A. Griffin this year succeeded Mr. Arthur Ben Chitty as Chairman of the Publications Board. Other members include Mr. Andrew Lytle, Dr. Charles O. Baird—Financial Officer of the Board, Dr. Charles Foreman—advisor to the CAP AND GOWN, Mr. Henry Arnold—advisor to The Mountain Goat, Neal Iverson—Junior representative, Heyward Coleman—Senior representative, and Albert Gooch—advisor to The Sewanee Purple. Barney Black succeeded Heyward Coleman, who graduated first semester.

At the suggestion of the Order of Gownsmen the Publications Board this year returned to the student body at large the responsibility for electing the editors of the three publications. Editors had been chosen by the gownsmen alone for the past five years.

KEN MARTIN
Editor

THE MOUNTAIN GOAT

This year marked the fortieth anniversary of the Mountain Goat. Founded in 1925 by Coleman Harwell and John Whitaker, it has been published sporadically ever since. Because it was considered an unwarranted drain on the University finances, it was discontinued from 1938 to 1950. Since that time, it has been an official University publication, supposedly combining the functions of a literary and humor magazine.

The past two years have seen a revival of the Goat. Last year, a record three issues were published, only to be topped this year, under the intrepid editorship of Ken Martin, by an all-time high output of four issues. The editions this year have attempted to place the main emphasis of the publication on humor, and, while this has not always been entirely successful, the four issues have been uniformly popular with the students, as was to be expected.

All in all, this year has marked something of a revolution in the history of the Goat, and Martin and his staff are greatly to be congratulated. It is hoped that the Goat will continue to rise upward and to go onward and to grow in grace day by day.

CAP AND GOWN 1965-66

The CAP AND GOWN is in its seventy-fifth year this year. It was founded in 1891 as not much more than a fraternity list. It was first hardbound in 1895. After a sporadic career, it was put on a sound financial basis just before World War I. Since then, with the exception of the war years, it has been published annually as a lasting record of events at the University of the South.

And this is what it intends to be. The CAP AND GOWN is supposed to be able to evoke memories of a year at Sewanee. We hope that this book will bring back to you in one or ten or twenty years a recollection of something of what 1966 was like at Sewanee, whether you were a senior or a freshman then.

Thanks are due to many people, more perhaps than can be named here. But we will mention a few: Mr. John Benson, who has been more than patient with us; Dr. Foreman, who has always been ready to help and listen to our complaints; Dr. Baird, who cooperated in every way possible; most especially Mrs. Chitty, Mrs. Whitesell, Mr. Binnicker, and Mr. Hodges who gave of their valuable time to help proofread; Mr. Griffin, a very present help in time of trouble; Bruce Rodarmor, who did a wonderful job with the photographs; Jim Hey, who was always ready to help when needed—likewise Billy Grimbball, without whom this yearbook would never have gotten out; Russell Daniel, who took over when everybody fell down, and to a whole competent staff.

THE SEWANEE PURPLE

SINCE 1892, the year that the Sewanee Review came into being, The Sewanee Purple has served as the official newspaper of the students of the University of the South. The Purple has always enjoyed complete freedom from censorship by the administration and faculty of the University and continues to be a student-operated newspaper.

The Purple is published every Thursday during the academic year and has a circulation, on and off the Mountain, of about two thousand copies.

During the past two years, the editorial policy of the Purple has been largely connected with an attempt to combat student apathy toward the vital issues of our day, national and international as well as campus-wide. To this end, much editorialization has been devoted to the question of required chapel and other important campus issues.

The success of the Purple is largely due to the kind cooperation of the University Press.

The German Club Mid-Winters dance, formal and a dinner dance, featured Maurice Williams and the Zodiacs.

The German Club at Sewanee is a university-backed organization which organizes, schedules, and promotes the Friday night dances during Party Weekends. It is composed of two representatives from each fraternity.

The dance on Homecoming Weekend was held at Gailor Hall and featured the famous Shirelles. Midwinters Weekend marked a change from previous dances in that the dance was not only formal, but also a dinner dance. The band featured was Maurice and the Zodiacs, a group not unfamiliar to the Mountain.

Officers this year are John Reid, PGD, President, Bill Hay, SN, Vice-President, and Ben Powell, SAE, Secretary-Treasurer.

PHI BETA KAPPA

Phi Beta Kappa was founded on December 5, 1776, at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia. It was the first society to have a Greek letter name, and with its beginning the basic characteristics of all such societies were introduced: secrecy oath (now abandoned), a badge, mottoes in Greek and Latin, a code of laws, an elaborate form of initiation, a seal and a grip.

Regular meetings were held at which the emphasis was placed on literary exercises. Social meetings were also held and the celebration of anniversaries. Many of the gatherings were held in the Apollo Room of the Raleigh Tavern in Williamsburg.

There are 160 chapters today, with a membership of over 141,000. Beta of Tennessee at the University of the South became the second chapter in the state and the one hundred and first in the nation with its formation in 1926.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

Omicron Delta Kappa, leadership honor society for men, was founded at Washington and Lee University on December 3, 1914. The founders conceived of a fraternity that recognized all-around leadership, recognizing men in all phases of college life which should cooperate in worthwhile endeavor and meet with mutual interest, understanding, and helpfulness.

Omicron Delta Kappa was the first college honor society of national scope to afford recognition and honor for meritorious leadership and service in extra-curricular activities and to encourage the development of general campus leadership. The emphasis for membership is placed on the development of the well-rounded man and high academic proficiency. The five major phases of campus life that the society recognizes and honors are scholarship, athletics, social and religious affairs, publications and speech, music, and dramatic arts.

BLUE KEY

Blue Key was founded in 1923 at the University of Florida. It is a national honor fraternity composed of those men who have exemplified exceptional leadership ability and high character. Membership is determined in the fall and in the spring of the academic year on the criteria of scholarship, athletic achievement, and participation in student affairs. In addition, a candidate for membership must display a potential for future growth.

Blue Key sponsors a number of major activities at Sewanee among which are the Inter-Fraternity Blue Key Sing, the Homecoming Queen Contest, and the intramural All Star football game. By collecting outstanding students into a single organization, which can then work for the best interests of Sewanee, the fraternity serves a valuable purpose in campus life.

WHO'S WHO

At each college in North America there are a number of those students whose integrity and ability serve to develop and uphold the principles on which these schools stand. Having as their aim recognition of these students, a group of men in 1934 began to publish Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Today more than six hundred fifty colleges and universities in the United States and Canada are annually represented in this "atlas of collegiate leadership." Sewanee's nominations for Who's Who are made by the executive committee of the Order of Gownsmen. This committee selects students on personal character, academic excellence, and extracurricular achievement.

SOPHERIM

Sopherim, Sewanee's literary organization, is the mother chapter of Sigma Upsilon, the national literary fraternity. Since 1904, it has brought together students interested in literature and creative writing.

This year the nearly defunct society has seen something of a revival. Dr. William Campbell, a former member of Sigma Upsilon at Davidson, agreed to help in the revitalization, and Sopherim has gained in importance and relevance as well as membership.

WOODROW WILSON FELLOWSHIP HOLDERS

Since its foundation in 1945, the Woodrow Wilson National Foundation has awarded more than 13,000 Woodrow Wilson Fellowships. The purpose of the grant is to further the prospects of deserving students for graduate education, with an eye to the development of future teachers.

Any member of the academic profession in the United States may nominate a student for this award. The student then undergoes a rigid personal examination before a committee, as well as having to submit a short paper on his intellectual interests. The recipients of the award receive tuition at any graduate school in this country or Canada for one year, as well as two thousand dollars for personal expenses. Of the 11,000 applicants this year, only one-third were chosen for the semi-finals.

Every October when tan-orange autumn vapors waft up from the valleys and visions of mountain spirits dance in the air, an intrepid few, stalwarts of the Mountain, begin to chafe within the limitations of our cozy Cumberlands and to scent high adventure on the Great Appalachian Divide. Now granted that the Great Smokies present an awesome prospectus of perilous cliffs, bears, irritated forest rangers, icy cascades, stray Cherokees, and assorted Tarhill ghosts; granted all this, a fearless leader is obviously necessitated. For some years now such a figure has materialized from the University Domain in the person of Dr. Hugh "Bear" Caldwell, sometime philosopher, canoeist, cosmologist, ski-enthusiast, and veritable "Natty Bumpo" to hordes of his admirers.

Doctor Caldwell annually solicits the hardest specimens of local manhood for rigorous weekend ascent of the National parks Mount LeConte (where the party hibernates overnight) and associated precipices. Needless to say, the trail-blazers are well briefed beforehand.

The troupe traditionally assembles about one hour after the appointed dawn rendezvous to launch out in separate cars. Often one finds the band threatening to disintegrate in the environs of Chattanooga, but the directional prowess of the leader has always prevailed.

THE SEWANEE STUDENT FORUM

Feeling that confrontation with and discussion of current ideas and 'live issues' is invaluable to any academic community, the Sewanee Student Forum, an autonomous committee of the Order of Gownsmen, encourages outside speakers to the Mountain, in addition to mobilizing local talent for an occasional debate. The offerings of the Forum for this year included: a cogent dialogue between Norwegian artist Jack Freeling and interested students, a scorching and memorable Viet-Nam debate between six University faculty members, an intuitive depiction of the Southern character by author James McBride Dabbs, an articulation of Pacificism by Dr. Dorothy Hutchinson, and an address by Executive Secretary of the NAACP, Mr. Roy Wilkins.

The Forum includes eight members, each of whom serves for two years.

John Dawson, President of the Forum, and Bo Sheller talk to Roy Wilkins during his visit here.

JUNIOR YEAR ABROAD

For many years now Sewanee has had a few of its juniors and sophomores spend a year of study in France. The two cities that have received the students are Paris and Aix-en-Provence.

Those who go to Paris go on the Sweet Briar College program. They study at the Sorbonne or some of the other schools in Paris and enjoy the privilege of taking courses under some of the best professors in France. Of course the advantages of being a student in Paris are almost innumerable. There is the Opera, the theatre, films, the museums—the city and people of Paris itself, a fascinating world of excitement and greatness in every respect. The student there knows the famous parts of Paris—the Louvre, the Latin Quarter,

Notre-Dame, and so on; but he also comes to know intimately the smaller parts of the city—the beautiful seventeenth-century Place des Vosges, "Le Lapin Agile" in Montmartre, the Rodin museum, the "caves" on the Left Bank—places not seen by the ordinary tourist, places which recall the fondest memories of the city.

PURPLE MASQUE

The Purple Masque this year has been under the direction of Mr. Warren Robertson, who took over the management of the group when Dr. Brinley Rhys, long-time director, stepped down last year. For the first time in recent years, the Purple Masque opened its season in the summer with a production of Eugene O'Neill's Desire Under the Elms. The fall production was Eugene Ionesco's The Rhinoceros. The production in the spring was Robert Bolt's play about the life and death of Sir Thomas More, A Man for All Seasons.

Membership in the group is determined on a point system. Prospective members can gain points by participation in any phase of the production and then become an apprentice, eventually becoming a full member. Officers this year are Ken Martin, President, Arjun Sajjani, Vice-President, and Tom Campbell, Secretary.

The Purple Masque presents its first summer production: "Desire Under the Elms."

JAZZ SOCIETY

The Sewanee Jazz Society was founded in 1958 by a group of students and professors. Since that time, it has brought such famous Jazz artists to the Mountain as Louis Armstrong, Dave Brubeck, Mose Allison, John Lee Hooker, Cannonball Adderly, and many others. The Jazz Society concert on Saturday afternoon of Midwinters and Spring Weekends has become a regular feature of dance weekends at Sewanee.

At Midwinters Weekend this year the society presented Art Blakey and the Jazz Messengers. A folk song concert was given in the Spring.

Dave Milling is the President this year, with Don Crichton as Vice-President, Buddy Salter as Secretary, and John Riggins as Publicity Director.

ENGLISH SPEAKING UNION

The international English Speaking Union which has been in existence for forty-eight years aims "to draw together in the bond of comradeship the English-speaking peoples of the world." It was founded just after World War I by Sir Evelyn Wrench.

The Hudson Stuck Chapter here at Sewanee was founded by Dr. George Herbert Clarke, former editor of the Sewanee Review, and Miss Sada Elliott. It was named for the Venerable Hudson Stuck, an alumnus of Sewanee, Archdeacon of the Yukon, and famous explorer.

The ESU usually meets on the first Monday of every month at "Bairnwick," the home of Mrs. George B. Myers. After a short tea, the members listen to an address on some aspect of Anglo-American affairs.

THE UNIVERSITY CHOIR

The University Choir, under the direction of Mr. Joseph Running, consists of some seventy students. The duties of the choir are to sing at weekly services at All Saints' Chapel as well as from time to time to give concerts, both on the Mountain and elsewhere.

Most notably, this year, they have participated in one of the most successful Christmas programs ever seen at Sewanee—the annual Festival of Lessons and Carols, held the last Sunday before Christmas vacation. The Choir not only participates in the service, but also is responsible for the decoration of the Chapel, always a tremendous job, as well as for any publicity that is given the event. From time to time the choir also gives individual concerts away from the Mountain, as well as an annual Spring tour. This year's tour went to places like Charleston, South Carolina, and Jacksonville, Florida.

The Choir elects its own officers and section heads. Each singing section of the Choir has an elected head. Bob Van Doren is this year's president.

The University Choir is one of the most important student functions of the University of the South. It performs well and valuably each Sunday as well as giving concerts that enrich immeasurably the musical and cultural life of the Mountain.

WAITERS' GUILD

The Waiters' Guild is made up of members of the student body who serve at all meals in Gailor Dining Hall. The members of the Guild must serve three meals a day and serve a total of twenty-four students. They get every fourth day off from work. The membership to the Guild is limited and the final selection is based on the student's financial need and his personal character.

The student waiter has a great deal of responsibility. It is his job to provide his assigned tables with food, wait on the students in his area, and clear off completely all the tables in his assigned area. One of his greatest responsibilities is to cater to the students' every need, and he tries to do this with the maximum of efficiency.

This year the Guild has been led by Head Waiter Richard Sims and he has been assisted by his Associate Head Waiter Tom Waddell. It is their job to organize and to supervise the assignments given to the student waiters of the Guild. This they have accomplished by their skill and leadership.

EL CLUB ESPAÑOL

Este año el Club Español ha recorbrado su antiguo y sagrado espíritu juergista conforme a la tradición latina. El Club se compone de personas que tienen interes en la lengua española y en la cultura española. Las reuniones animadas tienen lugar una vez cada mes en el sótano de Guerry (la Cueva) y a menuda terminan en otro lugar mas cómodo. Durante las reuniones no se habla más que español. Las actividades del Club consisten en conferencias y discusión sobre países de habla española, oración vespertina en español, y comidas sabrosísimas. Este año hubo una comida mexicana que resultó un gran éxito. Por fin se debe añadir lo que ya se acostumbra decir:

En el Club Español no hay tristeza Porque tiene su sangría y dulce cerveza.

DEBATE COUNCIL

The Sewanee Debate Council this year has been under the direction of Mr. Warren Robertson. Although handicapped by lack of experience, the council has done very well this year, and the prospects for the coming year are correspondingly good. The team has debated at Columbia University and at Agnes Scott this year and has acquitted itself well. Carolis Deal has served as President.

Sutton, Shutze, Traver, Austin, Rust, Peake, Parmelee, Gilbert, Paine, Seymour, Saltsman, Weathers.

THE PRE-LAW ASSOCIATION

The Pre-Law Association at Sewanee is composed of students who plan to make the law their career. It is composed of upperclassmen and operated entirely by them, although it does have a faculty advisor, Dr. Robert L. Keele. Its officers this year are Sparky Saltsman, Walter Weathers, and Arthur Seymour.

At its fall barbeque this year, the group heard Dr. Robert Keele speak on the Law School Admissions Test.

THE SEWANEE VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Volunteer Fire Department is a voluntary service organization composed of University students. These students play an important role in safeguarding the lives and property of the residents of Sewanee, a place where fires start all too easily.

Under the leadership of Chief Randy Williams, the S.V.F.D. is divided into two teams: the Reds and the Blues. The Blues consist of the more experienced members of the Department, and it is they who actually enter the fire. The Reds, meanwhile, help to control the crowd (which always gathers for a Sewanee fire—even a brush fire) and give the Blues any extra help they may need.

The S.V.F.D. has two trucks. One is radio-equipped and carries a total of five hundred feet of hose. The Department holds weekly drills in order to keep its members at top efficiency. In addition to fires at Sewanee, the Volunteer Fire Department has also assisted at fires at Cowan, Monteagle, and many of the other neighboring towns.

THE SEWANEE FORESTRY CLUB

The Sewanee Forestry Club, organized in 1959, has as its purpose the stimulation of an active interest in the enjoyment of outdoor life and the promotion of a better interest in and understanding of the profession of forestry. Anyone professing a sincere interest in the Club's ideals is eligible for membership. The facilities of the club include a club room in the Snowden Forestry Building and a log cabin located on a lake with a scenic overlook of the valley. The activities of the club include several parties and cookouts at the cabin and numerous movies pertaining to forestry or conservation.

DER DEUTSCHE VEREIN

Der Deutsche Verein hat ein sehr erfolgreiches Jahr gehabt unter der Führung seiner Beamter: Präsident: Eric Whitesell; Vize-Präsident: Harry Noyes; Sekretär: Buck Lyon-Vaiden; Schatzmeister: Chris Rossbach. Die Absicht des Vereins ist seine Kenntnisse über das deutschsprachige Europa zu erweitern, das heisst, über Deutschland, Österreich und die Schweiz, ihre Gebräuche, Überlieferungen, Sprache, und kulturelle Bedeutung.

Bis jetzt sind mehrere interessante Programme dargeboten worden, zum Beispiel, eine Rede über "Berlin von gestern und heute"; eine Feuerbowl, die eine heidnische Feier während der Weihnachtszeit ist und von Professoren und Studenten gut beigewohnt war; eine Rede über die Geschichte des Bierens, um den Verstand und auch den Geist zu erleichtern!

Andere Programme, die für die Zukunft geplant sind, schliessen unter anderem ein: "Ein Studien-Jahr in Wien-Erinnerungen eines Sewkanece-Studenten", "Das Leben in der Ost-one (d.h. in der Deutschen Demokratischen Republik)", und schliesslich ein Jahresabschlussfeier im Freien am Ende des Schuljahres.

The Christmas "Feuerbowl" is a yearly highlight.

Dr. Jones and Dr. Buck discover that someone spiked the punch at the French Club Banquet. Dr. Bates had already found out.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Le Cercle Français se réunit dans la cave de Guerry par intervalles spasmodiques. On y trouve des divertissements très variés—des projections des transparences, des représentations de pièces modernes, des conférences divers, etc. Ces réunions présentent à l'étudiant l'occasion d'entendre et de pratiquer le français oral hors de la salle de classe. Les divertissements organisés sont suivis d'une période de conversation faviltée par le vin. Tout le monde est donc libre de parler coome il peut et comme il veut. Selon une tradition célèbre, chaque année se termine par une grande fête gastronomique tout à fait française.

THE SEWANEE BELLRINGERS

The Sewanee Bellringers are a group of students organized and trained by the University Carillonneur, Mr. Albert Bonholzer, to perform on the Leonidas Polk Memorial Carillon. These students help during the weekly concerts, as well as playing carillons in other southern cities, such as Jackson, Tennessee.

The Carillon Concert every Sunday afternoon, so much a part of Sewanee life, is usually played by one of the bellringers.

ACOLYTE GUILD

More than sixty students volunteered this year to serve in the Acolyte Guild. The function of the acolytes is to serve God by assisting the clergy in the many services held in All Saints' and St. Augustine's chapels. The officers of the Guild were Rick Palomares, Paul Hoch, and Sam

Moss.

In addition to the regular service, many acolytes had the privilege this year of serving at special services, which included the Festival of Lessons and Carols, a celebration of the Holy Eucharist, a Solemn High Mass, a Reformation Communion Service, the "Rejoice" Mass, the Easter Even Liturgy, and the First Mass of Easter.

Also, many acolytes participated in a weekend retreat at St. Michael's Monastery, conducted by a monk of the Order of the Holy Cross.

THE STUDENT VESTRY

The Student Vestry is an elected committee of the Order of Gownsmen, responsible for the regulation of student religious life. The Vestry works in close cooperation with the Chaplain, and in consultation with him plans the annual Lenten program, as well as supervising various programs throughout the year.

The Lenten Program this year emphasized the conflict or lack of it between freedom and authority on campus in the background of the riots so recently heard of in California. There was a panel discussion, headed by the Reverend Charles L. Winters, of the School of Theology, as well as sermons by the Bishop Coadjutor of Tennessee, The Right Reverend William Evans Sanders and by The Reverend William H. Ralston. In addition to these, there were various unusual types of services for Sewanee celebrated at the Wednesday Chapel services during Lent: a solemn high mass, a folk song mass, and a Reformation Day service.

Ward, Hoch, Chamberlain, Urquhart, Abernathy.

Bob Van Doren—Director of the University Band hard at it.

THE UNIVERSITY BAND

The University Band is under the direction of Bob Van Doren. It is composed of some twenty-five students who perform and practice mainly for the love of music. The Band plays at all home football games, as well as at several of the away games.

The Band is not a marching band. It plays mainly classical and semi-classical music during its occasional concerts.

AIR FORCE R. O. T. C.

Air Force ROTC has entered a period of radical change. Eventually the traditional four-year program should be completely replaced by a new two-year course (set up by the ROTC Vitalization Act of 1964) in which only academic ROTC studies are pursued on campus, all military training coming at a six-week summer camp.

This simple program, higher incentive pay, and scholarships for selected four-year cadets should encourage more high-caliber students to seek commissions through ROTC. Sewanee now has both programs and two cadets on scholarships. Though much reduced in number, Sewanee's ROTC is trying to make this its most active year yet. The Saber Drill Team hopes to make several trips, and a more professional Arnold Air Society plans to sponsor orientation flights for cadets the second semester and hopes to improve ROTC's public image by community service activities, such as bringing speakers of general interest to Sewanee.

FOOTBALL

The 1965 edition of the Sewanee Tigers continued the winning ways of their predecessors. The Tigers posted shutouts in each of their first three games, outscoring the opposition 100 to 0.

After suffering a 29 to 6 loss to the Austin College Kangaroos, the Tigers rebounded to win four straight conference games, marking the third straight year that Sewanee had won outright or shared the College Athletic Conference crown. In addition to their 7-1 record the Tigers placed seven men on the All-Conference team.

Ten seniors provided the nucleus of the 1965 team. The tackle position was manned by three seniors—Don Upton, Bruce Mulkey, and Lynnwood Pueshel. There were two guards—Price Stone and Sam Ladd—with Doug Paschall the only senior end. The backfield was made up completely of seniors, including blocking back Phil Condra, wingback Dale Reich, fullback Paul Tessmann, and tailback Bill Johnson.

After the loss of twelve seniors in 1964, there were many who felt the Tigers would not be able to repeat the fine seasons of the two previous years. Every team Sewanee faced was looking for revenge.

In the opening game against Millsaps in Jackson, Mississippi, tailback Bill Johnson broke away on touchdown runs of 86, 71, and five yards in the first half to give the Tigers a 19-0 lead. The Majors, who were much stronger than the previous year, stymied the Sewanee attack in the second half but were unable to score. With Johnson setting a new single game rushing record with 279 yards in twenty-five carries, the Tigers held on for a 19-0 victory.

The following week the unbeaten Yellow Jackets of Randolph Macon came to the Mountain. Still remembering the 34-13 defeat of the year before, the Jackets were hungry for their third victory of the season. Led by tailback Johnson, the Tigers scored an impressive 28-0 victory over the Jackets.

Johnson was the leading ground gainer for the day with 148 yards in thirty-one carries and two touchdowns. Charlie Gignilliat and Rusty Adcock also broke away for touchdown jaunts. The Sewanee defense was even more impressive, allowing Randolph-Macon only 119 yards on the ground.

Sewanee's next opponent was outmanned and outclassed Kenyon College. The Lords were no match for the lighter but more aggressive Tigers. The first string saw little action in the second half as the coaches let the reserves continue the unintended massacre.

Five people scored touchdowns as the Purple Tigers rolled up 502 yards total offense in the 53-0 win. Freshman end Tim Hubbard had a big day, catching three passes for 109 yards and two touchdowns. Johnson continued to roll up the yardage on the ground, amassing 148 yards in 14 carries without carrying the ball a single time in the second half. Again the defense was superb in posting its third consecutive shutout.

The dream of another undefeated season came abruptly to an end the following week as the Tigers invaded Sherman, Texas, to play the Austin College Kangaroos. Smarting from a 49-0 loss at the hands of the Tigers in 1964, the Kangaroos took an early 7-0 lead. With Charlie Gignilliat directing the attack in place of Johnson, Sewanee cut the margin to 7-6. Then Austin, led by its fabulous quarterback Jerry Bishop, took control of the ball and completely dominated the game for the remainder of the afternoon.

Bishop put on quite a passing performance, completing nineteen of thirty-two passes for 211 yards. The Kangaroos amassed 490 yards total offense in their 29-6 victory over the Tigers while the Austin defense limited Johnson to only one yard in seven carries.

Discouraged by the loss to Austin College and shocked by the tragic death of Coach Shirley Majors' third son, Bill, an assistant football coach at the University of Tennessee, the Tigers journeyed to Danville, Kentucky, to open defense of their CAC crown against Centre College.

Playing before a homecoming crowd, the unbeaten but once-tied Colonels put up a courageous battle, but the Tigers were not to be denied. Dave Paschall, Carl Sims, and Gignilliat scored one touchdown each as Sewanee ground out a 20-0 decision.

Johnson was the leading ground gainer for the Tigers with 107 yards in twenty-one carries. The proud Sewanee defense returned to its old form, limiting the Colonels to only 65 yards rushing.

On October 30, Sewanee was the guest of arch-rival Southwestern in Memphis. The Lynx had been preparing for this one for a year. From the outcome of the game it appeared that the Lynx needed more preparation.

With tailback Johnson having the finest day of his fabulous career, the Tigers swept to a 41-6 decision. Johnson scored three touchdowns, gained 184 yards in eighteen carries, returned a kickoff 82 yards for a score, and pranced 39 yards with a punt return to the sorrow of Southwestern fans. Freshman fullback Sims showed promise of things to come as he amassed 76 yards in fifteen carries.

leading the Tiger defense which held the Lynx to only 36 yards rushing.

The next game was the Tigers' Homecoming, and the opponent was Washington and Lee. In 1964 the Generals had ended Sewanee's fourteen-game winning streak, handing the Tigers a heartbreaking 11-6 defeat.

The first time the Tigers got the ball they marched 62 yards in sixteen plays for the score and it looked as if Sewanee was on its way to another easy victory. But the Generals were in no mood to play the role of a pushover. The W & L defense stiffened and the game settled down to a defensive battle with neither team able to put together a sustained drive.

When the final gun sounded, the Tigers still held the 6-0 lead to avenge the loss of the previous year. The Sewanee defense, led by captain Paul Tessman, had posted its fifth shutout of the year.

With Sewanee owning a 3-0 conference record, Washington University invaded the Mountain for the CAC showdown. For the third straight year the Battling Bears and Tigers were meeting in a contest to decide who would be the conference champion. Twice before the Tigers had emerged the victor when all the odds were against them. Who could believe that Sewanee would beat the Bears for the third consecutive year?

Well, the Tigers must have believed it, for they did just that. It wasn't easy because the Bears were big and fast. In fact they moved out to a 3-0 halftime lead on the strength of a 35-yard field goal. On two other occasions in the first half Washington University missed field goal attempts.

However, in the early minutes of the third quarter Johnson broke away on a 36-yard jaunt to the Bear six-yard line. Four plays later the big fullback plunged into the end zone from one yard out. Mike Apathy is not a virtue—the Homecoming Bonfire—66.

But finally the record of the football team is written on the faces of those who watch the game.

Underwood added the conversion, and the Tigers led 7-3.

For the remainder of the game the Sewanee defense was called upon to stop the WU offensive attack. On each occasion the Tigers were equal to the occasion. But with only a minute and twenty-five seconds remaining, the Bears were first and goal at the four.

But for the final time of the season the Tiger defense rose up to stop the Bears on fourth down only six inches from the Sewanee goal line.

Seconds later the horn sounded with the Tigers still holding a 7-3 advantage. And for the third year in succession Sewanee had proven that it was the top football team in the CAC.

Once again Johnson was the Tigers' leading ground gainer with 92 yards in twenty-three carries. This performance gave him 1043 yards for the season and 1996 yards for his career—both new school records. The big speedster from Yorkville, Illinois, also had 72 points for the season and 190 in his career—the latter another school record.

Even considering the loss to Austin College, it was a successful season. The graduating seniors had outperformed on teams which had compiled a record of twenty-three wins and two losses over the past three seasons. In the last minute and a half of college gridiron action for these seniors they displayed the intense pride and determination that enabled them to win under many adverse conditions. For those who saw the goal-line stand against Washington University no words are needed to explain it; for those who did not see it, mere words are inadequate to describe it.

Any team that can come back after a disappointing mid-season loss and a tragic incident to win four straight conference games and the CAC championship deserves a lot of credit. Realizing this, the coaches paid high tribute to the entire squad for its play and especially to the ten graduating seniors who supplied the necessary leadership.

BASKETBALL

Bob Swisher, third-year captain of the Tigers, goes up for two against Lipscomb, as smiling Tom Ward prepares to follow. Swisher wound up his senior season with 314 points, an average of 17.4, hitting 50.4 percent of his field goal attempts.

In one of the finest games ever played by a Sewanee basketball team, the Tigers soundly whipped tall and strong Washington University to win their first CAC championship in four years of conference play.

The championship game capped Sewanee's best season in a decade as the Tigers finished with a 12-6 record. In conference play Sewanee was 5-0 with at least one win over every team in the conference.

It was a fitting end to an era in Sewanee basketball as senior captain Bob Swisher wound up what was probably the greatest career in Sewanee cage history.

Swisher, a starter for four years and captain three, hit 50.4 percent of his field goal attempts his senior season and finished with 314 points, an average of 17.4 a game.

The Tigers opened the season on a good note, decisively defeating a surprisingly talented Millsaps team 74-55. Larry Cunningham led the way with 21 points and Tom Ward grabbed 15 rebounds.

The following night Sewanee outlasted CAC-foe Centre to post a 77-65 win. In his top scoring effort of the season Ward dropped in 27 points and took off 17 rebounds.

Then, on the road against Birmingham Southern, disaster struck. Down 16 at the half, the Tigers rallied, but the speedy Panthers held on to post a 98-87 win. Ed Grant poured in 20 points, but Southern proved too strong on the home court.

Back at home, the Tigers fell behind a veteran David Lipscomb team early in the game and were never able to catch up, despite a rally led by freshman Sam Carroll, who got 11 points in 14 minutes of play. Ward's 20 points paced the attack and Swisher, Grant and Ward each had 11 rebounds.

Hopes were high, however, that Carroll would prove to be the fifth starter Coach Lon Varnell had been seeking since the beginning of the season. And in his first college start Carroll proved himself with 13 points and 16 rebounds, as Sewanee crushed a weak Millsaps team 85-67.

Ward again was high scorer, hitting nine of his 13 field goal attempts and finishing with 22 points.

Then, in the smoothest performance to date, the Tigers defeated Lambuth 78-70 on the road. Grant poured in 17 points in a brilliant second half to finish with 20 and high scoring honors.

After a 12-day break and less than a week of practice, Sewanee opened the January portion of the schedule with a convincing 86-62 win over Millsaps. Swisher led the way with 25 points and Ward had 21.

Ward finds himself in another tough spot against Washington in the CAC championship game. Going for a low pass, he finds himself surrounded by a trio of burly Bears. Despite finding himself in such spots throughout the season, Ward finished as Sewanee's top rebounder with an average of 13.1 a game and was also the number two scorer.

Corky Grant shoots.

Then, the Tigers returned home to crush an undisciplined Southwestern team 88-59. Grant and Ward were high scorers with 19 each and Ward had 14 rebounds.

Next, the Tigers entertained Florida Southern, then rated one of the nation's top small college defensive teams. The tall Floridians demonstrated why they held that ranking, almost completely shutting out all the Tigers except Grant. Down 41-28 at the half, the Tigers rallied, but time ran out before they could get closer than 65-60. Grant wound up with 24 points, high for either team.

Sewanee then upped its won-lost mark to 7-3 with an easy 75-52 win over King College just before semester exams. Swisher was high man with 20.

Coming back after exams, the Tigers had a pair of narrow escapes, topping a fired up Rollins team 86-74 and overcoming a hostile crowd and hot shooting by the opponents to post a 75-66 win over Southwestern.

With a 9-3 record and hopes high for Sewanee's best record ever, disaster struck, and Sewanee suffered three consecutive setbacks.

David Lipscomb, shaking the Tigers badly with a half-court press, won 66-61. Brightest spot for Sewanee was the rebounding of Ward, who took off a career

The Mad Dog, Sam Carroll, draws the crush from two Washington players as he attempts to pass to a teammate who is out of sight. Carroll won a starting spot as a freshman and was key performer in a number of Sewanee victories, including this 82-61 victory over the Battlin' Bears.

Swisher fires in two more points in Sewanee's win over Washington. Taking very few shots, the Tigers played what Coach Lon Varnell called one of the greatest games ever played by a Sewanee team in defeating the Bears. Swisher wound up with 20 points in this game and was named to the All-Conference team along with running-mate Larry Cunningham.

high of 21 and added 18 points.

Then Birmingham brought its fast-breaking team to the Mountain and overran Sewanee with a great second-half burst to post an 88-74 win, despite season-high performances by Swisher, who tallied 27, and "sixth man" Ashton Holloway, who threw in 20.

Huntingdon, another fast-breaking and pressing team, was the next to top Sewanee, posting a 78-70 win as a Sewanee rally came too late. Ward was high man with 23 points and 16 rebounds.

Finally, the Tigers snapped the losing streak with a 61-52 win over Lambuth. The victory put the Tigers into the CAC tournament with a 10-6 record and the top-seeding. Swisher closed his home-court career with 22 points and was awarded the game ball by Coach Varnell in honor of his four years with the Tigers.

Then came the tournament. The Tigers were never better. First to fall was Washington and Lee by an 81-61 count. Sewanee hit 25 of 47 from the floor, and would have made it a run-away, had not occasionally lax defense permitted the Generals to make a game of it for 25 minutes. Cunningham poured in 25 and Swisher got 22.

The following night Sewanee took on powerful Washington for the title. Sticking perfectly to their game plans and playing outstanding defense, the Tigers built a 44-26 halftime lead and stretched it to 82-61 before the final buzzer. Again the Tigers hit over 53 percent of their shots as Cunningham threw in eight of nine from the floor, and added eight of eight from the line for 24 points. Swisher closed his career with 20.

Both Sewanee guards were named to the

All-Conference team, Swisher for the second time. Cunningham established new shooting marks both from the field and the free throw line hitting 16 of 24 field goal attempts and 17 of 17 free throws.

Three Tigers in addition to Swisher finished with double-figures averages. Ward wound up 15.3, Grant 13.8 and Cunningham 13.4. Ward paced the rebounders with 235 and Grant had 144.

SWIMMING

The Sewanee swimmers splashed through a tough schedule to a 9-2 record, then finished the season with a win in the first annual College Athletic Conference Championships. Tiger victories included upsets of SEC champ Florida (53-42) and Eastern Kentucky (61-34) and fine performances against Kentucky, Vanderbilt, Georgia Tech, Emory twice, Louisville, and Union. Losses were to powerful Alabama and Tulane.

Coach Ted Bitondo's team scored 172 points to ease out Washington and Lee by 24 and Washington University in the C.A.C. meet.

Freshmen John Colmore and Bob Couch paced the team in scoring with 103 and 99 $\frac{3}{4}$ points respectively. Colmore established new school records in the 50- and 100-yard freestyle events of 23.0 and 50.9.

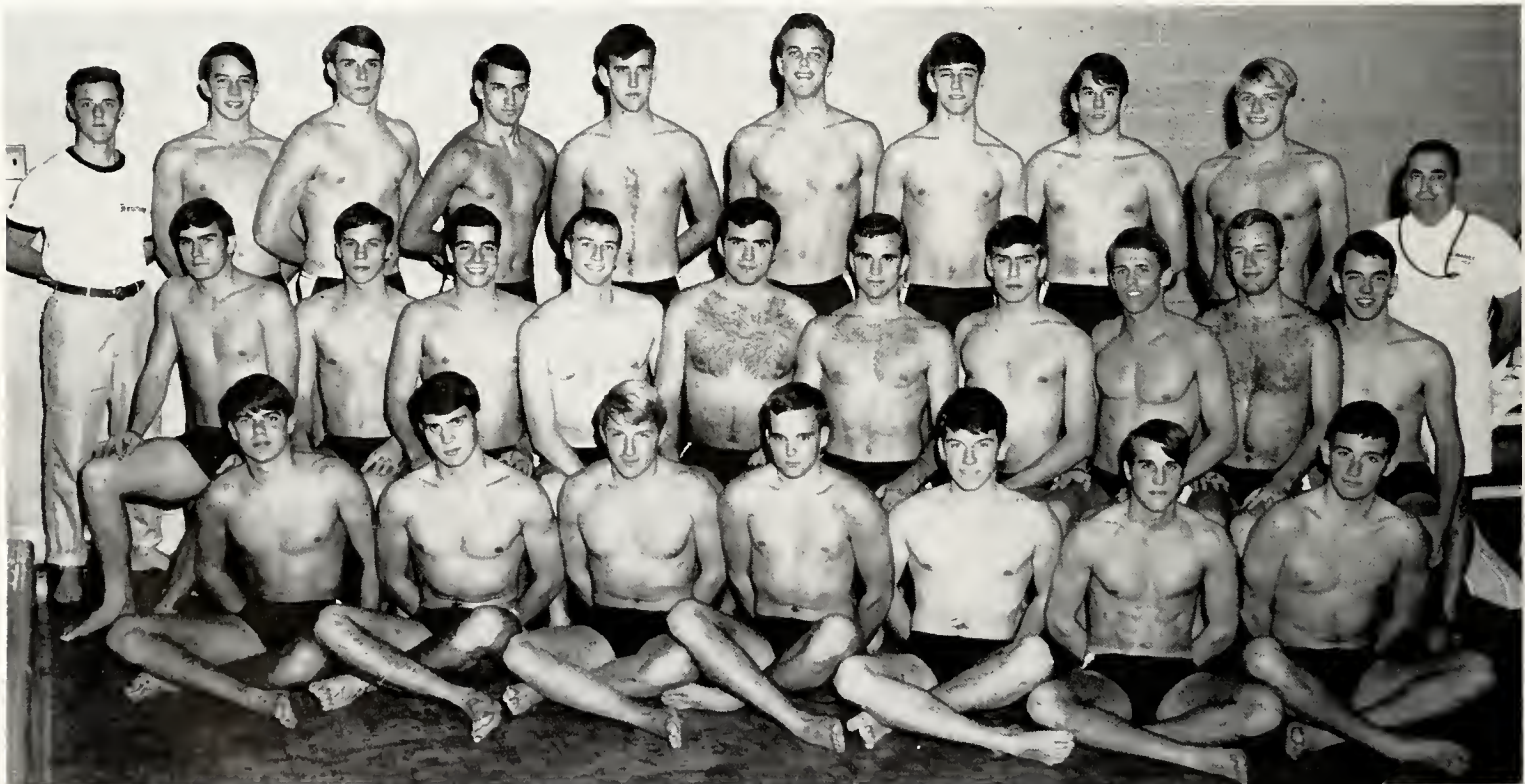

Couch shared the conference meet's Most Valuable Swimmer award with W and L's Billy Ball. He took firsts in the 200-, 500-, and 1650-yard freestyle distances and shared in a relay win, setting school and VMI pool records in each. His times were 1:53.9, 5:17.8, and 19:13.9 respectively.

Diver Bryan Starr completed the season undefeated in his event, bringing his two-year record to 20 wins against 1 loss. He ranked fourth in scoring. Third place in the final tally went to freestyler Doug Baker with 75 $\frac{1}{4}$ points.

Champion Tiger Tankmen John Colmore, John Turpit, Al Sherer (team Captain), and Bob Couch pose after a successful season.

Roger Way and Paul Hoch were strong performers in the breaststroke. Way, a double winner at the conference meet, established a school mark of 2:28:8 in the 200-yard breaststroke against Tulane.

Others who set school records during the course of the season were John Turpit in the 200-yard individual medley.

Peter Fogg in the 200-yard butterfly, 2:18.3; John Olofson in the 100-yard backstroke, 1:01.2; the medley relay team of Olofson, Hoch, Fogg, and Al Sherer, 4:00.8; and the freestyle relay team of Colmore, Turpit, Sherer, and Couch, 3:26.2.

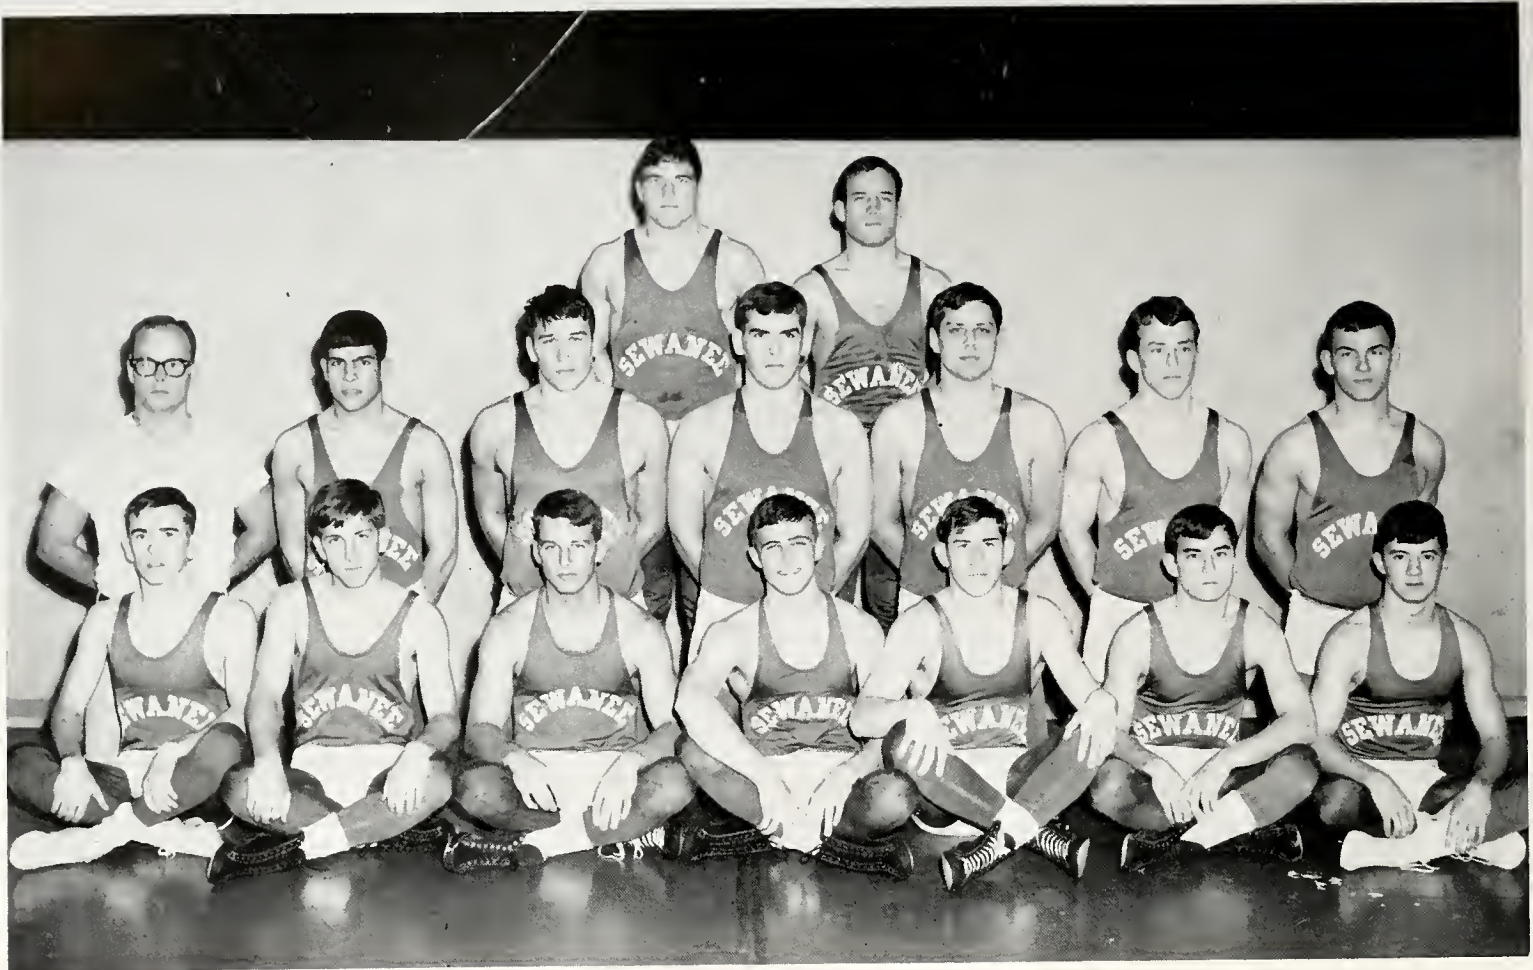

Working behind these fine performers, the swimming team built its best record since 1957-58. Prospects for next year seem bright, as co-captain Terry Goodwin and thirteen other lettermen will return. Only captain Al Sherer, a fine leader and spirited competitor, will be absent from the squad.

WRESTLING

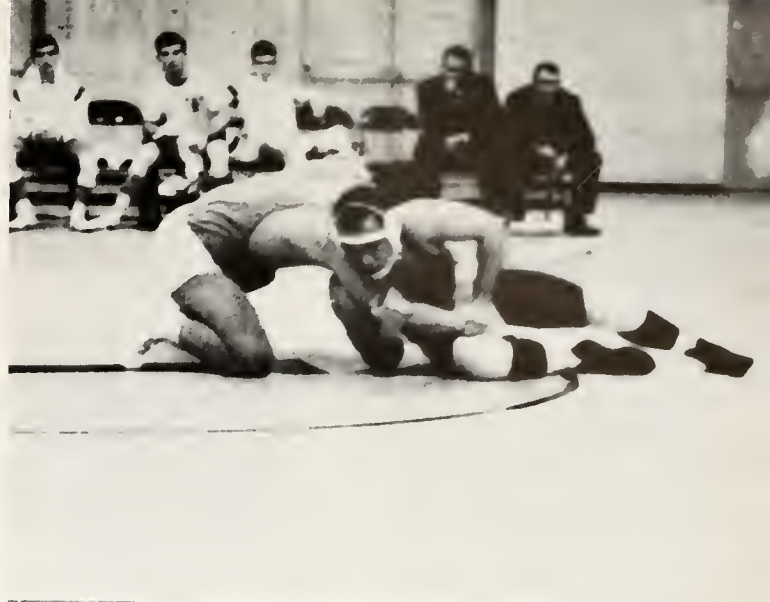

The Sewanee matmen brought their 1965-66 season to a close with a well deserved 5-2 record. The end of this season also marks the conclusion of one of the most successful wrestling careers the mountain has ever seen. Captain Paul Tessman leaves the mat after four years as high point man, as well as having held the captain's post for three years, the first freshman so honored. In forty-six consecutive matches and five tournaments, he has been a champion both in leadership and in sportsmanship. Paul will be missed both by his companions on the mat and by Sewanee's wrestling fans. Another Senior, Randy Tucker, will also be missed in the future.

With a 12-4 college record, Tucker proved his value in key matches. Juniors Billy McKenzie (8-2), John Colby (7-5), Chip Langley (4-1), Doc Gilbert (3-5), and John Lasky (1-6) provided the backbone for the Sewanee team. Freshmen Jack Baker (8-3), Tee Parker (6-2), David Cameron (6-4), Don Cameron (2-2), Lang Roberts (2-0-1), George Westerfield (0-1), and Jim Hey (8-4) will be counted on for much service in the future. With all this material returning, next year's captains: Chip Langley, Jack Baker, and Billy McKenzie are anticipating another winning season.

TENNIS

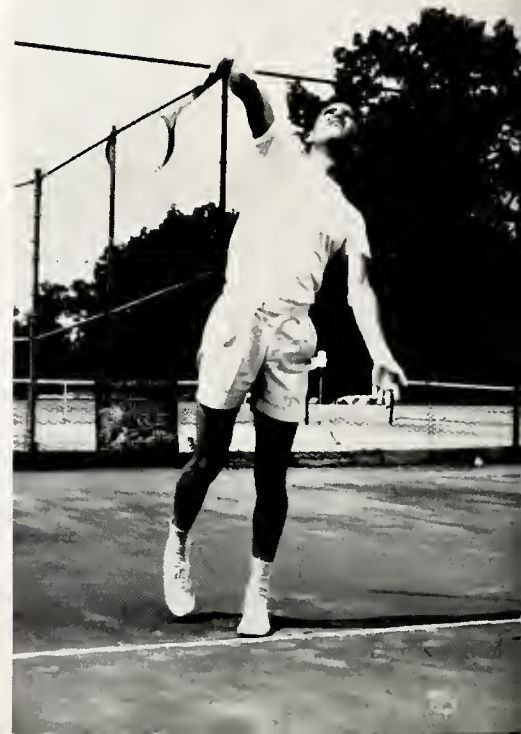

The single most significant event on the Sewanee Tennis scene this year was the advent of Gordon Warden as coach. Coach Warden, who established an enviable record at Presbyterian College, has not only instituted a demanding schedule, including twenty-one dual meets and two tournaments, but has also set up an exhausting practice routine that began in mid-October. Thanks again to Coach Warden's efforts, Sewanee has become one of the leading tennis centers in the South, attracting such tournaments as the Southern Senior Men's Indoor, the Southern Professional Indoor, the Southern Men's Indoor, the NCAA college divisionals, and the Southern Junior Closed Championships.

Jay Gwinn returns.

Frank Jones, Captain, holds number one spot on team.

Harrison and Brien pose after one of the four all Southern Indoor Tournaments held at Sewanee this year.

To date, the team has established an adequate, but not enviable 7-13 record. This year's team, although lacking experience in the lower positions, has three experienced seniors holding down the top three positions. Frank Jones, playing number one for the third straight year, has had an erratic season—his win over Washington's Burrus being the high point as well as a key win in the team's 5-4 victory over the Bruins. Joe Harrison, second man, has played consistently good tennis this year, as usual, and his only losses have come after hard-fought three setters. Jay Gwinn rounds out the top three, and although this has not been his best year, he has made valuable contributions in crucial matches.

At the remaining positions are Chip Moon, Moultrie Burns, and Guy Adams, all freshmen. Sophomores Fletcher Comer and Rick Weekley and freshman Harvey Johnston have also seen a great deal of action; Sewanee's hopes for the future hinge to a large extent on the continued successful development of these boys as players.

Sewanee hopes this year to repeat last year's victory in the C.A.C., which will be held at Washington University in St. Louis.

Four senior lettermen have the task of leading a youthful Sewanee track team through a tough schedule this spring as well as preparing them for the TIAC and CAC meets. Although endowed with a number of fine freshmen, the team lacks the depth of previous years.

Captain John Scott is a vital team support and heads the list as anchor man for the 440 yard relay, 100 yard dash, and as CAC titleholder in the 330 yd. intermediate hurdles.

Seniors Jay Reynolds and Thad Waters lead the javelin attack, and Reynolds has been counted on heavily in the high hurdles. Sophomore powerhouse Wynne Bush is a strong competitor in the broad jump, triple jump, 440 yard relay, and the dashes.

TRACK

Randy Tucker puts the shot, but freshman Timbo Hubbard gives him some strong competition for the position.

Robin Harding constantly thrilled the spectators in the pole vault, clearing as much as 13' 10". Tyler Colley and John Colmore, also fine high jumpers, round out a grand vaulting trio.

Jeff Brown, Doug Porch, and Jim Freels absorb the agony of the mile and two mile events, and Freshman Ronnie Tomlin hurdles the middle distance races, 440 and 880.

Coach Moore is fortunate in having a host of sprinters, although several lack experience. Jim Beene and returnee Rickey Rowe participate in the 440 yard relay and the 100 and 220 yard dashes, to round out a potentially devastating team. All hopes are that this good potential may be realized by CAC time in St. Louis.

GOLF

This year's Sewanee golf team is the best in Tiger history. Though it is a young team in need of experience, it promises to be even better in the future. The loss of John Capers who has been with the team three years will be quickly replaced by the efforts of the terrific trio of Napier, Tunnell and Grubb, all sophomores, Allyn Lang, sophomore, and Don McCammon, freshman, also show great promise.

The combined efforts of these boys have resulted in an enviable 10-3-3 record. This fine achievement has been highlighted by two especially rewarding matches. An 11-10 win over M.T.S.U. was significant because it was the first dual match loss suffered by the Raiders since 1957, when another Sewanee team defeated them. Another rewarding match came against Austin Peay when Don McCammon sank a fifteen foot putt on the last hole to give Sewanee a 13½-13½ tie with the Tennessee Inter-Collegiate Champions.

Once again, as with tennis, much of Sewanee's success can be attributed to coach Gorden Warden. The team began practicing early in February when there were still patches of snow on the ground. The daily workouts and practices, and by virtue of his P.G.A. standing which enables him to give the boys expert advice has inspired the boys with a will to win which has meant so much to them this season.

Adcock, Peters, Bryson, Sims, Mitchell, Grant, Underwood, Duncan, Cunningham.

At this point Sewanee's baseball team has notched a 5-6 record, but the story is not fully told by the record alone. The record for example does not explain that the Tigers, after getting off to a slow start, from April 7 thru April 19 won four out of five ball games; or that the more than two weeks of rain and bad weather which followed cost them vital practice time, washed out five games and caused the team to suffer as a whole for inactivity. The record does not explain that Chap Wasson, one of the team's leading hitters last year, from whom the coaches were expecting big things this season was seriously injured in an automobile accident and consequently forced to sit out the majority of the season. When Chap returned to the lineup in a double header on May 3 he went three for six, even with a sore arm.

Coach Majors has an experienced club anchored by nine returning lettermen but he also has two fine freshman prospects: hard hitting first baseman Mike Underwood and slick fielding, short stop Kesley Colbert. The spark plug of the team is Larry Cunningham who plays catcher and leads in the hitting department. The infield is rounded out by Ernest Kirk at third and David Paschall at second. In the outfield Tim Peters, probably the most improved player on the team, is in left, Corky Grant has done a good job in center and John Kyle Duncan pitches.

BASEBALL

Bryson switches off with Chap Wasson in right. The mound staff is headed up by veteran Kyle Duncan, who is not only the Tigers' best hill ace but one of the leading hitters on the team. John Ralphs and Greg Rogers round out the pitching staff.

In spite of a rather so-so season there have been three bright spots. The first being Sewanee's 11-4 victory over Vanderbilt, our first in six years. The other came against Belmont who's pitching staff prior to the Sewanee game had carved an aggregate E.R.A. of .333. Sewanee led by David Paschall with four hits shelled Belmont 9-6 on thirteen hits. The third standout victory was when Duncan and company shutout the M.T.S.U. Raiders 2-0.

SOCCKER

A season of seven wins, one draw and two losses is, by any standards a worthy record, but when that season is the team's first, and the players' experience is, to say the least, minimal, then the score card justly proclaims a tremendous success.

The new sport brought with it much enthusiasm, and the field with the strange-looking goalposts was to many their initiation into soccer. The support was good and much appreciated by the team. But it is to be hoped that by next year some of our vociferous spectators will realize that body blocks and tackles (American style) are illegal on the soccer field.

Perhaps the highlight of the season was the team's impressive 5-3 defeat of Georgia Tech. Everyone felt that this was the one we had to win, and a quick goal set the Purple alight. From then on it was a fine struggle with Sewanee always just that little bit quicker to get to the ball. The final game with Vanderbilt ended in a 1-1 tie.

Captain and center half P. R. Walter played his double role adeptly. His great tackling skill and intelligent distribution of the ball were large factors in the team's success.

Coach Read is doubtless still breathless at the unexpected glory, and his work and patience were greatly appreciated by the team. Most valuable player was F. Wulf, defense Reynolds, attack Rose.

BISHOP JUHAN—A Sewanee Man

The theme of this yearbook is the Sewanee Man—his ideals, activities, his attributes and that certain gift—charisma, if you will—that distinguishes him. In setting forth on this theme, we therefore have dedicated ourselves to the proposition that Sewanee Men are exceptional, at least in the main, and that there is something about him, taken individually (for the true Sewanee Man is a person, rather than a public person) that marks him as perhaps better than the common run of men. Somehow, our contention is gloriously vindicated when a man like Bishop Juhán stands up to represent Sewanee.

The Mountain Goat this year, in its first issue, ran a headline: The Bishop Retires—Again. They were right, in a sort of flip-pant way: this is a man who will not stay retired as long as there is some service that he can perform for his school. After retiring as Director of Development last year, he took upon himself the duty of athletic advisor to the University, having his office in the building which shows very clearly his own contribution to the athletic side of the University—Juhán Gymnasium.

Later in the year, he received an honor that has stamped him forever as an immortal in athletics both at Sewanee and in the nation—he was voted into the National Football Hall of Fame.

This is not the place to recount the many triumphs of his long career, but one remark that he made upon receiving the award is typical of the man and of the love he bears for his school:

"I am grateful that Sewanee has received the honor of having another admitted to the Hall of Fame."

INTRAMURALS

Lencho Dicus—third year in a row Most Valuable player in IM Football.

INTRAMURALS

All students of the University including the School of Theology are encouraged to participate in athletics. For those not interested in varsity sports a broad program of intramural athletics is offered by the Athletic Department. At the end of the year the Intramural Championship Trophy is awarded to the most successful organization.

IM football began the year with the Phis as the preseason pick for first place with the ATOs, DTD, and Fijis expected to make a strong bid for honors. But as the season developed the Betas led by tail-back Randy Tucker surprised everyone by grabbing a midseason lead. However, the ATOs and Phis stayed in strong contention with only one loss each followed by the Theologs and Dick Elwood. The next several weeks saw several changes and suddenly the Betas, ATOs, and Phis found themselves in a three-way tie for first place. By the end of the season ATOs were in first place followed by the Phis and the Betas. The Sigma Nu team led by Mike Lampley was in fourth place. Lencho Dicus was for the third year the Most Valuable player. Other outstanding players were Neal Iverson, Jody Smith, and John Scott for the ATOs, Ned Gignilliat, Tim Peters, and Jim Brittain for the Phis, Terry Payne for the Delts, and Jay Gwinn for the Betas.

The Sigma Nus ran away with the IM Cross Country. The Fijis took second followed by the LCAs. John Dawson, a perennial threat, won the event closely followed by teammate Ward.

The ATOs won again this year the IM Swimming Meet. The ATOs proved the importance of team depth by placing fourteen swimmers in the finals although only winning one event. The freshman Independent team was the most spectacular and was led by John Magrath, Rodger Way and Doug Vanderbilt to a second place. John Colmore and Bob Couch of the Fijis both set IM records.

The IM volleyball race looked as if it would be very tight, as strong teams were fielded by the Sigma Nu's, ATO's, Delts, and Kappa Sigs. At the end of the regular season, the Sigma Nus were tied with the ATO's, each with one defeat. The crucial playoff ended with an ATO victory.

The Betas, led by Denny Wood, swept the IM basketball crown with an undefeated season. A strong challenge was issued to the Betas, who posted a 10-1 record, led by Dick Sims and Phil Condra. The Delts finished third behind the shooting of Bobby Canon and the ATO's took fourth place. The All-Intramural team was dominated by guards as Jody Smith (ATO), Bobby Canon (DTD), Dick Sims (Ind.), Denny Wood (BTP) and Mike Lampley (SN) made the select circle.

The Fijis dominated IM wrestling, taking first place in five of the eight classes. Quimby, Chamberlain, Higdon, Colmore, and Westerfield won their divisions to give the Fijis twenty IM points and helping close the gap on the leading ATO's. The Phis took second, and the ATO's scrambled into third place.

The Fijis and Phi Delts led all challengers in the IM track meet. Both had balanced teams, but the Fijis took first place, with its forty intramural points. An outstanding performance by John Colmore in the field events gave the Fijis the extra push they needed to edge the Phis. The ATO's were a distant third, and the Lambda Chis squeezed out fourth over the Independents.

The Delts gained extra points, with victories in handball and badminton. Jay Reynolds continued to dominate both these sports and with help from Bobby Canon gave the Delts a big push in the IM race.

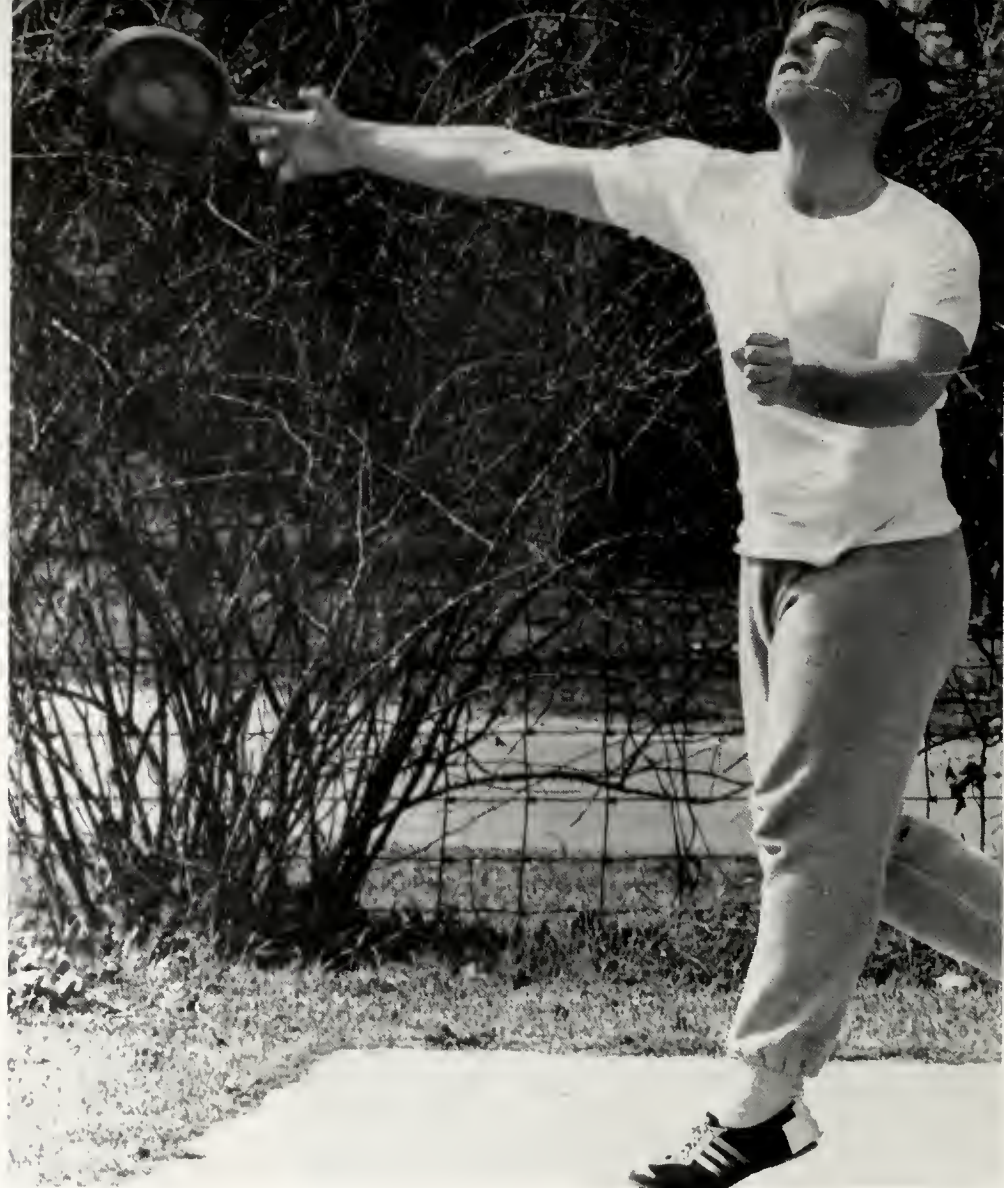

At the time of this writing, the ATO's hold a slim lead and are hard-pressed by the Sigma Nus and the Fijis. Tennis, golf, and softball are in progress and remain to be finished. The ATO's lead in softball, but need to finish high to insure them the IM crown for the second year running.

Delt Paul Prentice plays keep away with the Sigma Nu's.

SAE Jim Meyer goes up for a jump shot against the Betas.

ATO Travis Waterbury Moon hurls the discus.

Was it that bad, ref?

The ATOs carried their third trophy of the year by winning the IM volleyball. A strong SN team led by Joe Webb followed in second place. The Delts took third led by Rusty Napier and Duvy Spruill.

The KS who led much of the race during the season had to settle for fourth place. The Faculty with standouts Alvarez and Chaplain Collins proved something by only losing two games.

Only six laps to go.

FRATERNITIES

THE FRATERNITY SYSTEM

A university is, ideally, so constructed that each body within it has its peculiar function; that of the fraternity is social and, derivatively, political.

The social efficacy of fraternities at the University of the South is beyond question. No school needs them more as nuclei around which organized entertainment and student participation in athletics may be oriented. The fraternity system at Sewanee is most important to the operation of student government here as it now stands, both for its assigned part in political procedure and for its vote potential.

A fraternity is by nature an exclusive organization, and it is this quality which is the real basis for most of the arguments brought against it. But this argument, like the proverbial bucket riddled with holes, can hold no water. If it were valid, it would apply equally to the Order of Gownsmen or to the University itself, for both must choose and exclude—sometimes in heartbreaking fashion.

The fraternity is an established and necessary institution at Sewanee and, let us pray, a permanent one. Like all institutions, it has the demerit of occasional and appalling inhumanity, but its merits far outweigh its faults, and it remains a vital member of the university system and of the brotherhood of men.

President

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The Pan-Hellenic Council, a standing committee of the Order of Gownsmen, effects a liaison between fraternities and the administration and governs relations among the various chapters. Its membership consists of the president and one other member from each fraternity.

The Council regulates the activities of the chapters in the vital areas of Rush Week and pledge training. It is responsible for determining and supervising the execution of rush rules; it oversees the actions of fraternities during the rush period and hears cases involving any infringement of the Pan-Hellenic Constitution. The Council also establishes the standards for fraternity pledge programs. It rules on petitions to charter new fraternities at Sewanee and submits these rulings to the administration in the form of recommendations. It may pass proposals concerning fraternity life in general for consideration by University officials and the Dean of Men.

More informally, the Council serves as a valuable forum for the exchange of ideas and the discussion of issues and conflicts that may arise from fraternity life. Such discussion facilitates a smooth running system with a minimum of problems.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

Alpha Tau Omega was founded at Richmond, Virginia, in September of 1865 by three young Confederate soldiers. Since that time, approximately 160 chapters, representative of every sector of the country, have been added.

Just twelve years after this time a force of fourteen University students began the twenty-fourth colony at Sewanee. This chapter has had an interesting history and continues today the standard of excellence begun in 1877 when four of the five Sewanee graduates were from Tennessee Omega.

At present this chapter is outstanding in the academic world, with three Phi Beta Kappa members and the fraternity scholarship bowl, and in athletics, as defending intramural champions and contributors to the success of the varsity football, swimming, track, and tennis teams.

BETA THETA PI

The Beta Theta Pi fraternity was founded at Miami University (of Ohio) on August 8, 1839, by John Reily Knox and seven other young men. This marked the beginning of one of the oldest social fraternities in the United States. BTP was also the pioneer fraternity of thirty-two other campuses—a record which no other fraternity can match. There are now one hundred twenty-three chapters of Beta Theta Pi, located in all section of the country.

The Gamma Chi Chapter of Beta Theta Pi was founded at Sewanee in 1949. In 1949, the Betas moved out of their previous chapter house (located where the DuPont Library now stands) into a new house located behind Gailor Hall, on the eastern end of the campus.

In athletics, the Betas have always been a campus power, having representatives in nearly every varsity sport at Sewanee. This year Paul Tessman, Chip Langley, Denny Wood, and Randy Tucker, just to name a few, have been prominent in sports.

BTP is well represented in other campus organizations, as well. Its president, Bucky Wood was chairman this year of the Discipline Committee; John White is the newly-elected Secretary of the Order of Gownsmen.

CHI PSI

This year we have left our former quarters beneath the Union and have moved nearer Clara's . . . a rather strategic location. Next year we will be in our brand new house for which ground was broken on the second of April near Malon Courts. As it stands now, we have worn out one house a year, but we plan for this one to last a bit longer.

The year was highlighted by our Christmas Dinner for some of the faculty members and assorted dates. After the meal, there was a gift presented to the fraternity.

It now reposes in a place of honor on the mantle of the replace in our Stereo Room.

Awards on the academic side of life included a Phi Beta Kappa, Mark Volk, who also won a Woodrow Wilson Scholarship. Other honors included a Dean's Lister or two, and the usual assortment of three pointers and draft dodgers.

All in all, Chi Psi is looking forward to a good year next year. For one thing, we'll have a lake to break our falls come party weekend.

DELTA TAU DELTA

Delta Tau Delta was founded in 1858 at Bethany College, Va. (now W. Va.). Twenty-eight years later, in 1886, the Fraternity admitted into its brotherhood the Rainbow Society, a spirited Southern Society which was founded at Ole Miss in 1848.

Sewanee's chapter, Beta Theta, received its charter on June 23, 1883. The Chapter's Shelter was built in 1904, remodeled in the 1920's and again in 1960. It is the oldest fraternity house on campus. The Chapter claims many distinguished alumni: Newton Middleton, author of the Alma Mater; Dudley Gale, donor of the Polk Carillon; El Señor William Lewis, Professor Emeritus of Spanish; and our distinguished Chapter Advisor, The Rt. Rev. Frank Juhan, retired Bishop of Florida, retired Regent and Chancellor, Chairman of the successful $10 million Ford Drive and newly-elected member of the National Football Hall of Fame.

Delt teams have been a definite force in intramural athletics, and are now busy defending the mantle-full of trophies won last year. Our scholastic standing has improved recently and we were third on campus in this area first semester. Sewanee Delts have maintained a position of excellence in the Southern Division of our national Fraternity especially in scholastics and finances.

We look for more of the same in the future.

GAMMA THETA

This year brought an additional fraternity to Sewanee, with the founding of a Gamma Theta. No group has made its presence known more rapidly, for in a year's time Gamma Theta has contributed to the academic and athletic areas of university life.

When all the grades were in at the end of the first semester Gamma Theta had placed first among Sewanee fraternities in over-all average. In addition, their pledge class placed first, which is no small accomplishment for a first year group.

It is fitting that a new fraternity should contribute members to one of the newer varsity sports at Sewanee, soccer. This year Gamma Thetas George Malone and Scott Vickers helped the Tigers to a creditable season against tough opposition.

Gamma Theta is unique among Sewanee fraternities in that it has no national affiliation. This has its advantages, for the dues demanded are much smaller and the chapter has less interference from outside influences.

This year Gamma Theta has proved to be a valuable addition to the Sewanee fraternity system, and will offer to continue its contributions in future years.

KAPPA ALPHA ORDER

Kappa Alpha Order was founded at Washington and Lee University in December of 1865. Alpha Alpha chapter, established in 1883 at Sewanee, has continued to carry on the traditions, principles, and ideals of the Order. The main aim of Kappa Alpha is the cultivation of those virtues and graces that make a gentleman. Such a gentleman was Robert E. Lee, the spiritual founder of Kappa Alpha. General Lee was a perfect example of the fine character that all members think of as the criterion of a true gentleman. At Sewanee today these qualities are exemplified in the person of Mr. Andrew Lytle, close friend to KA and a true Southern gentleman.

The last several years have been one of the most flourishing epochs of the chapter's eighty-two-year history. During these years Alpha Alpha chapter has boasted two valedictorians, one Rhodes Scholar, three Order of Gownsmen presidents, two football captains, and twelve proctors; it has consistently had representatives on the Honor Council, in Who's Who, Omicron Delta Kappa, Blue Key, Phi Beta Kappa, in journalistic activities, and has had participants in all varsity sports.

During a very successful rush week Kappa Alpha pledged twelve new men. The Washington and Lee, Homecoming and Mid-Winter party weekends were a great success and Spring weekend was too.

Cherishing its tradition, upholding the spirit of its founders, and proud of its rich Southern heritage, Alpha Alpha chapter of Kappa Alpha looks forward with confidence, hoping not only to equal the excellence of its predecessors, but to set new goals for the members of the future.

KAPPA SIGMA

Kappa Sigma's historic and traditional founding occurred centuries ago in Bologna, Italy, as a secret society for mutual protection against the ruthless governor, Balthasar Cossa.

In 1869 this tradition—then almost five centuries old—was revived in the west. On December 10, the original Five Friends and Brothers came together and established Kappa Sigma at the University of Virginia. Stephen A. Jackson, working to spread the tradition, established several chapters, including Omega at Sewanee in 1882.

Omega has been a vital member of the 162 chapters of Kappa Sigma. It owned the first chapter house in the nation, it produced Kappa Sigma's first Rhodes Scholar, and in one year it had eight Phi Beta Kappa's. Five bishops of the Episcopal Church were members of this chapter.

This year has proven that Omega intends to keep this tradition alive. Kappa Sigs at Sewanee have taken active interests in every phase of life on campus. In sports the fraternity had members on the baseball, soccer, golf, and tennis teams. In scholarship it produced a Phi Beta Kappa. In publications it had an editor of the Purple, a feature editor, two assistant managing editors, two business managers, and one circulation manager, as well as the assistant editor and the sophomore editor of the Cap and Gown and editor of the senior class. Three of the brothers were active in the Black Ribbon Society, and several in the Jazz Society. Another served on the Honor Council, and another was elected president of the Forestry Club.

And whenever KS came together, the brothers saw to it that "the mirth and fun grew fast and furious."

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Lambda Chi Alpha was founded at Boston University on November 2, 1909. Although one of the youngest national fraternities, it has experienced phenomenal growth since its founding. In 1939 a merger was negotiated with Theta Kappa Nu, the largest such combination in the history of the inter-fraternity world. Today Lambda Chi Alpha ranks third in size among all national fraternities, with 158 chapters and over 90,000 members.

In February, 1961, a group of fourteen Sewanee men formed Upsilon Sigma, a new local fraternity, with the intention of eventually affiliating with a national organization. These men found in Lambda Chi Alpha a conception of fraternalism which coincided very closely with their own, and on May 6, 1961, Upsilon Sigma was reorganized as the Sewanee Colony of Lambda Chi Alpha. After two years of hard work the Colony met the rigid requirements for a charter, and on April 6, 1963, Iota-Nu Zeta chapter was installed.

In four short years the brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha have made remarkable progress. Shortly after installation, construction was begun on a beautiful stone lodge which now stands at the south end of the fraternity oval. Emphasizing the positive side of fraternalism, the chapter has followed a no-hazing policy from the first and has led the Sewanee Greek system in the field of public services, winning the Bloodmobile trophy for three years in a row and performing numerous projects both on and off the Mountain. The fraternity has made steady improvement in scholarship, one of the brothers being the first winner of the Borden Freshman Prize. Building on the firm foundations of the founding brothers, Iota-Nu Zeta of Lambda Chi Alpha looks forward to a promising future.

PHI DELTA THETA

Phi Delta Theta was founded on December 26, 1848, at Miami University in Ohio. The fraternity's purpose is multi-fold: the cultivation of fellowship, the acquisition of mental culture, and the development of a personal standard of morality. It provides the balance between conflicting ideals that permeates an atmosphere of brotherhood, that fosters growth into manhood.

Tennessee Beta was recognized by the national headquarters in March, 1883. Plans for the house were considered in the fall of March, and one was erected that year. The Sewanee Phis thus became one of the first fraternities in the South and the first Phi chapter in the nation to own its own house. In 1907 work began on The Castle, our present house, which was modeled after Founder's Tower, Oxford.

Phis are active in every phase of Sewanee life. In the past four years, they have had two presidents, a vice-president, and two secretaries of the Order of Gownsmen. This year, in addition to the secretary of the O.G., the Phis have the secretary of the senior class, associate editor of the Purple, business manager of the Cap and Gown, junior representative to the Student Vestry, president of the Red Ribbon Society, and president of the Jazz Society.

For the past 2 years, Tennessee Beta has won the Herrick trophy, which is given by the national headquarters for academic achievement.

In the area of athletics, the Phis are active too. For two of the last three years they have won the intramural trophy. By dominating the football all-star squad, they have started this year on the right foot. Phis participate on every varsity team, and have made outstanding contributions to Sewanee's athletic program.

Tennessee Beta is proud of its accomplishments, and hopes to continue its tradition of excellence.

PHI GAMMA DELTA

Phi Gamma Delta was originally founded at Jefferson College (now Washington and Jefferson) on May 1, 1848. The national fraternity expansion was mainly to the South, since most of Washington and Jefferson's students were from this area. Today, Phi Gamma Delta is an international fraternity with 88 chapters in the United States and Canada. There are over 65,000 Fijis today wearing the black diamond, the symbol of membership.

Gamma Sigma chapter of Phi Gamma Delta received its charter from the University in 1919. Since its early years the chapter here has participated actively in all campus functions, setting high goals of excellence in every field.

Fijis not only hold positions of campus leadership, but also are very active in all phases of athletics.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity was founded on March 9, 1856, in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, by eight young men of the University of Alabama. Meeting secretly at night, they formed what was to become the largest social fraternity in America.

The Tennessee Omega Chapter of SAE had its beginning with initiation of seven men, including General Edmund Kirby-Smith and Alexander Guerry on August 20, 1881. Tennessee Omega was the first SAE chapter in the country to own its own fraternity house, which was built in 1886. Thus, the lodge became a national shrine.

Last year, however, the SAE house burned to the ground, but, thanks to the heroic efforts of some of the brothers, most of the important documents were saved. This year, SAE has been forced to reside at Rebel's Rest and at a house by the University Shop while waiting for the completion of their new house, which is being built on the same spot as the old one. The new lodge, the campaign for which was headed by Mr. Harding Woodall, '17, will be ready for use next year.

This year, as in the past, the brothers have been active on campus, serving in such student organizations as the Order of Gownsmen, the Discipline Committee, as Presidents of the Pan-Hellenic Council, the Green Ribbon Society, the Black Ribbon Society, the Honor Council, and in various social clubs.

Cherishing its tradition and upholding the spirit of its founders, Tennessee Omega of Sigma Alpha Epsilon looks forward with condence to the opening of its new house.

SIGMA NU

The national fraternity of Sigma Nu was founded on January 1, 1869, at Virginia Military Institute. Brothers James Frank Hopkins, Greenfield Quarles, and James McIlvaine Riley initiated this fraternity, which now has over 130 national chapters, including 80,000 members. The national magazine of Sigma Nu is the Delta, one of the most outstanding publications of its kind. It was first printed in 1883 by John Alexander Howard.

Beta Omicron chapter of Sigma Nu was founded at Sewanee in 1889. Through the period of the first World War, the chapter was dormant, but in 1921 Beta Omicron was re-founded. The present lodge was designed by Charles Thomas, who supervised its building in 1927. Extensive renovations were conducted in the summer of 1963, contributing even more to the beauty and utility of the lodge.

On the mountain campus Beta Omicron brothers have distinguished themselves this year as president of the Purple Masque, editor of the Mountain Goat, vice-president of the German Club, as proctors, and through the Honor Council. In all fields of endeavor the chapter has outstanding alumni including the Rt. Rev. John Hines, Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church.

Intramural improvement seems to be a reality now as Sigma Nu won the cross country for the second straight year and finished fourth in football. In fulfillment of its civic duty Beta Omicron also prides itself. The fourth annual Christmas party for under-privileged children was held this year. The chapter has now retained the Help Week trophy, having won it three out of the last four times.

Through the aid of sixteen pledges Beta Omicron hopes to continue its success on the Mountain and in the world.

Dear Mr. Turner:

Thank you for your kind letter. Of course, there's nothing I like more than beauty contests, and Sewanee's representatives are certainly lovely.

Your request that I choose Miss Sewanee of 1966 has not been an easy one to comply with, however. In fact, I've been near my "wits' end" in reaching a final decision. I hope the one I have arrived at pleases everyone, or at least as many people as possible.

My best wishes go to the editor and staff of the Cap and Gown for a most successful edition.

Sincerely,

Dick Van Dyke

Selector

In casting around for a suitable celebrity to choose our Miss Sewanee for 1966, we thought of several people. The Duke of Windsor was asked, but refused very graciously, saying that there were others more eminently qualified and that the choice was too difficult a one for him to make. Deciding to seek our celebrity in show business rather than among royalty, we asked Dick Van Dyke to choose our Queen. He very graciously accepted.

There is no need to enumerate his many show business successes. Movies like "Bye, Bye, Birdie" and "Mary Poppins" speak for themselves. We are very grateful that he consented to do the choosing.

THE REV. DAVID BROWNING COLLINS, B.A., B.D., S.T.M.

"For the past thirteen years the University has enjoyed and profited from the services of an unusually able and effective Chaplain. At Sewanee the Chaplaincy is one of the three constitutional offices elections to which are exclusively the privilege of the Board of Trustees. It is an unusually difficult and important post. The Chaplain here has to have sufficient intellectual stature and academic training to hold his own as a University faculty member among professional teachers. He has also to preach to an extraordinarily diversified congregation including professional theologians, scientists, and humanists, their wives, graduate students, undergraduates, high school students, and children of all ages. Moreover, he has to be the pastor for the entire University community. Anyone who can fill all of these roles is remarkably gifted, and Chaplain Collins has done so with unmistakable distinction. To do all of this and at the same time contribute uniquely to music, drama, and baseball on the Mountain is more than should be expected of anyone.

"We feel blessed in having had not only Chaplain Collins but also his wife, whose contributions to music and drama and the social amenities will never be forgotten; and we wish them and their children all of God's blessings in their new career in Atlanta where he will be Dean of the Cathedral of St. Philip."

—EDWARD MCCRADY

"Look around you and see what he has done."

As a yearbook editor, wouldn't you like—

✓ complete creative art assistance in planning and designing your book

✓ actual known production performances (by records) of substantially less than 10 weeks, as required by most yearbook manufacturers. No contract claims, either, of an additional 4 days on delivery for each 1 day any deadline is missed

✓ an association with a firm who has specialized in designing yearbooks perhaps longer than any other company

✓ our insistence of your reading and checking page proofs to avoid (or at least minimize) possible glaring errors in the completed edition

✓ an all out effort to please you in design, quality, and service at competitive prices

What more could you ask?

DID IT EVER OCCUR TO YOU THAT THE

University Supply Store

is the handsomest, cleanest, and best kept store in America? That it eclipses all the co-operative stores of the great eastern and famous western universities? Well, it is, and it does.

in the drug department are kept the highest quality chemicals and medicinal preparations that are produced on the planet. The Haberdashery department is unique . . . here you can get everything that you need to wear on all occasions. You might ransack the world and find nothing of higher grade that is on display in our Grocery. This is not an idle boast; just a simple, actual fact. Notwithstanding all this, our prices are very moderate, whatever you may hear to the contrary.
